

ABSTRACT

An exhaust system has a tubular member (1) to discharge exhaust produced in an engine or a compressor and a muffler (5) connected to the tubular member (1). An exhaust chamber 10 to attenuate noise emitted from the muffler (5) due to pulsation of the exhaust is 5 arranged in the tubular member (1) or at an exhaust upstream side in the muffler (5).